

Day	Time	Individual	Place	Other UNM authors	Role	Title
Thursday
12-Apr
	7-8am/12-1pm	Ethan Hill	Zilker 1/2/3	Emily Moes, Heather Edgar, Keith Prufer	Poster	Current research on Late Pleistocene and Early Holocene human remains from the Bladen Nature Reserve in southern Belize
	7-8am/12-1pm	Shamsi Berry	Zilker 1/2/3		Poster	Testing body mass estimation methods: the Mississippi State Asylum Cemetery
	7-8am/12-1pm	Ann Stodder	Zilker 1/2/3	Shamsi Berry Carmen Mosley, Keith Hunley, Meghan Healy,	Poster	The New Mexico Bioarchaeology Database Project
	1:30-2:30pm/6-7pm	Kate Rusk	Zilker 1/2/3	Heather Edgar	Poster	Facial fluctuating asymmetry as a marker of cumulative health burden in women
	5:15pm	Marian Hamilton	Zilker 4	Sherry Nelson	Paper	Strontium Isotopes as Indicators of Philopatry / Dispersal Patterns
Friday
13-Apr
	8:30am	Drew Enigk	Texas I	Melissa Emery Thompson, Martin Muller	Paper	The development of male-female dominance relationships in wild chimpanzees
Saturday
14-Apr
	8:00am	Corey Rasdale	Foothills Ballroom II	Heather Edgar	Paper	The effects of Spanish colonization on population structure in two regions of Mexico
	8:15am	Cathy Willermet	Foothills Ballroom II	Heather Edgar, Emily Moes, Corey Ragsdale	Paper	Estimating African ancestry in two historic ossuaries in New Spain
	8:30am	Heather Edgar	Foothills Ballroom II	Katelyn Rusk, Corey Ragsdale	Paper	Spanish/North African population affinity: implications for North American Mestizos

11:45am

Stephanie Fox

Texas V/VI

Drew Enigk, Martin Muller,
Melissa Emery Thompson

Paper

Wild female chimpanzees are more social and feed less often when they have young infants