

UNM Department of Anthropology

Application for Hawaii-Hibben Undergraduate Fellowship, 2022

We announce a new program of undergraduate fellowships for Native American, Hawaiian, Alaskan, and Pacific Islanders providing field and research training in Hawaiian archaeology. This program sponsored by the Hawaii Historic and Archaeological Research Projects (H2ARP) will take place over a period of 8 weeks in the summer of 2022, with 4 weeks in the field, and 4 weeks for students to completed their research projects. This application and supporting materials are due on March 15, 2022 and decisions on awards will be made by March 30, 2022.

Name

Address

Phone Number

Email

University/College

Standing/Year

Major, Concentration and Minor

GPA

Gender

Ethnicity

Race

Native American

Tribal Affiliation

Native Hawaiian

Native Alaskan

Pacific Islander

Indigenous

Other Under-Served Group(s)

List anthropology (and related) courses you have completed

UNM Department of Anthropology
Hibben Undergraduate Student Fellowship Application

Describe your background and experience in research, training, and outreach in anthropology and related fields and how an award would contribute to your further professional development

Expenses and amounts award will total $7,000:

UNM Tuition & Fees

Travel Expenses

Field Food & Meals

Field Housing

Stipend

UNM Department of Anthropology

Hawaii-Hibben Undergraduate Fellowship Application

In addition to the application, you must provide the following to be considered for this award:

Letter of Support from a faculty member who is familiar with your work at UNM or the college you attend (may be submitted with application or sent separately by the faculty member)

Unofficial Transcripts--for UNM applicants this can be downloaded and printed through LoboWeb

Submit your application materials (compiled into a single pdf with your last name as part of the file name) electronically to Michael Graves, mwgraves@unm.edu by March 15, 2022. Include "Hawaii-Hibben Undergraduate Fellowship Award Application" in the email subject line.

---